VISIT OF HIS EXCELLENCY
LEE KUAN YEW, PRIME MINISTER OF THE REPUBLIC OF SINGAPORE, TO THE UNITED STATES,
OCTOBER 16-30, 1967

b7E

In early October, 1967, the United States Department of State advised Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew of the Republic of Singapore would visit the United States from October 16, 1967, to about October 30, 1967. He would visit Washington, D. C.; New York City; Chicago, Illinois; Boston, Massachusetts; San Francisco and Los Angeles, California.

The October 24, 1967, issue of the "Chicago Sun-Times", Chicago, Illinois, carried an article on Page 21 reflecting the fact that Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew was scheduled to arrive in Chicago on Tuesday, October 24, 1967, for a day-long visit before going to San Francisco. He was to be the guest at a military reception planned at the Civic Center in the morning and thereafter the Mayor of Chicago, Richard Daley, would name him honorary citizen of Chicago. He would be the guest at a luncheon at the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel at noon, which luncheon would be sponsored by the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, and at 4:00 PM he was to meet with the Council on Foreign Relations at the University Club.

The October 25, 1967, issue of the "Chicago Sun-Times" reflects on Page 2 that Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew followed the above itinerary, was presented with a bronze medallion symbolizing honorary Chicago citizenship by Mayor Daley the morning of October 24, 1967, and was guest at a luncheon at noon of that day. During this luncheon Lee commented that "...the purpose of his 12 day visit to this country was to judge for himself whether Americans have the will to pursue the war..." in South Viet Nam.

SUBJECT: VISIT TO THE U.S. OF PRIME MINISTER LEE KUAN YEW
OF THE REPUBLIC OF SINGAPORE
[REDACTED]

ReBuairtel dated 10/30/68.

On 11/5/68, Chief ROBERT TONIS, Harvard University Police, Cambridge, Mass., advised that the Prime Minister while at Harvard was to live in Eliot House, a college dormitory, and was going to teach and attend classes at the John Fitzgerald Kennedy School of Government at Harvard. The Prime Minister was scheduled to arrive at Harvard on 11/13/68 and subsequently depart on 12/10/68. Periodic contact was had with Chief TONIS and he had no significant information to relate concerning the Prime Minister.

It has been noted that "The Harvard Crimson," an undergraduate daily newspaper published at Cambridge, Mass., has carried articles concerning the Prime Minister during his visit to Harvard. These items were of a favorable nature and nothing of pertinence developed while the Prime Minister was in Cambridge. Inasmuch as he has left Cambridge to return home, Boston is closing its file on this communication.

Harvard Hears Lee Kuan Yew

Lee Kuan Yew, prime minister of Singapore, last night predicted that South-east Asia would one day be united by mutual cooperation and the common goal of prosperity.

Central to his vision of the area's future is free enterprise, a topic he returned to many times in the course of his address to a Harvard audience.

Lee is in this country on a three-month vacation and sabbatical at the Harvard Center for International Studies.

He blamed the economic decline of the area on nationalist leaders who misunderstood the role of free enterprise.

"The entrepreneurs are often members of minority groups — Chinese, Indian — and in their zeal to exhibit broad support, nationalist leaders, appealing to the majority, have frightened, harassed or legislated them out of the country," he said.

A questioner in the audience asked Lee how he could leave his country for months at a time. The trip, he answered, was "hard work rewarded."

"I left a stable and cohesive government, free of personal rivalries. I am only concerned that Singapore may discover it can get along without me."

VISIT OF PRIME MINISTER
LEE KUAN-YEW TO THE

MARCH 21 - APRIL 10, 1973

On April 9, 1973, Assistant Chief [redacted]
Bethlehem Police Department, Bethlehem, Pa., and [redacted]

cerning the visit of Prime Minister LEE KUAN-YEW at Lehigh

Two newspaper articles appeared in the Lehigh University newspaper, "The Brown And White" on April 3, 1973, concerning speeches made by Prime Minister LEE KUAN-YEW regarding American and Singapore relations.

The first newspaper article was entitled, "U.S.
Should 'Opt Out' of Southeast Asia, Singapore Prime Minister Says". In this speech made at Lehigh University Prime Minister LEE KUAN-YEW stated that peace and prosperity are most likely to be preserved if the burdens of the world and freedom of nations can be shared among the three super powers so that no small country is forced to choose sides with a more dominant country. Prime Minister LEE KUAN-YEW advised that the United States provides a formidable challenge to the peaceful co-existence between the super powers and should "opt out" of Southeast Asia. United States' influence would then shrink and China's and Russia's would expand.

VISIT OF PRIME MINISTER
LEE KUAN-YEW TO THE
UNITED STATES
MARCH 21 - APRIL 10, 1973:

The fundamental difference between the three super powers and their ideological, political and economic systems must be muted, but will continue to exist. LEE KUAN-YEW added that normal cooperation will open the Communist closed economic society to the western world. If peace and prosperity are to be achieved, LEE KUAN-YEW said, countries must live in nuclear co-existence with both cooperation and competition in economics and politics.

Prime Minister LEE KUAN-YEW stated that the three great powers must live peacefully with each other despite the urge to be more influential. He stated that the balance of power has shifted as the relative influences of large countries have shifted. He also stated that the fixed divisions of the cold war had become fluid and nebulous. He stated that Washington had moved from confrontation to negotiations with Moscow and Peking and ideological differences have become less relevant.

Prime Minister LEE KUAN-YEW advised that President NIXON's discussions with Moscow and Peking have changed the situation in Southeast Asia. The power of triangular politics was demonstrated in Hanoi. Hanoi realized her position was weakening and the result of the change in the balance of power was that North Vietnam presented their nine-point peace plan and later had to allow the Americans to withdraw peacefully.

Prime Minister LEE KUAN-YEW stated America is more friendly to Communist China than to Democratic India and China shows greater cordiality to America and Japan than to Leninist Russia. He continued by stating that Russia and China are equally alarmed by each other's growing nuclear capacity. LEE KUAN-YEW stated that the beneficial result of the conflict of Southeast Asia has been the breaking of a spell on other Southeast Asian countries and that the wave of history is no longer on the side of the Communists. "The Communist victory has been shown not to be inevitable".

LEE KUAN-YEW TO THE
MARCH 21 - APRIL 10, 1973:

In 1963, the differences between the Communist philosophies of Moscow and Peking became publicly evident, LEE said. He added that the chasm may never be healed however much both sides try to re-establish unity in the Communist movement. Prime Minister LEE KUAN-YEW stated that the United States is making progress toward easing relations with both Moscow and Peking but that he could not give details of different developments in the negotiations. He noted that the United States' pre-eminence in world power is no longer assured. The small nations are concerned that as the result of super power diplomacy issues may be settled over their heads and at their expense. Prime Minister LEE KUAN-YEW stated that the smaller countries are more cautious toward China, except certain Asian countries who knew China favorably. He stated that South Korea is continuing dialogues with China; North Korea wants to increase power through relations with China; and Malasia wants to establish relations with China in suppressing international guerilla movement. Japan, New Zealand and Australia do not fear the Communists because they have much to gain economically and technologically.

Prime Minister LEE KUAN-YEW stated that Thailand, Indonesia and the Philippines are not ready to establish relations with China and Singapore will continue to maintain existing non-diplomatic channels with China. He said that any Southeast Asian country with many domestic problems and a large number of insurgent guerrillas from China will have little enthusiasm for change of policies and establishing relations with China.

Prime Minister LEE KUAN-YEW stated that the United States must make a critical appraisal of the new world power balance because negotiations among the three super powers may not always coincide with the United States' interest. He said that the United States must recognize that China will make the grade - it is just a matter of time.

VISIT OF PRIME MINISTER
LEE KUAN-YEW TO THE
UNITED STATES
MARCH 21 - APRIL 10, 1973:

The second article that appeared in the "Brown And White" Lehigh University Newspaper was titled, "Lee Says Singapore Wants Completely Peaceful Role". In this article Prime Minister LEE KUAN-YEW stated, "We've got to live with the fact that next to the Mideast, Southeast Asia is one of the major trouble areas of the world and insofar as is humanly possible, try to make it less troublesome by being as friendly to everyone as possible".

Prime Minister LEE KUAN-YEW stated that unless we find a quadrilateral equation between the Americans, the Russians, the Chinese and the Japanese which allows all major powers equal access and fair competition, there will be a great deal of strife. Prime Minister LEE KUAN-YEW stated Singapore has several natural harbors that can take any fleet but at the moment they are used by a small British task force, "denying any other party free use of it". "What we would like", LEE said, "is to be completely peaceful; let everybody come in and do their fighting outside of our territorial waters. But this is not often the way the great powers do it", he added.

Prime Minister LEE KUAN-YEW stated that there were two possible extremes for Singapore's political future vis-a-vis the major powers. The first he described as "all hands off". In this plan Prime Minister LEE KUAN-YEW stated that the great powers would guarantee Singapore's peace and neutrality because they would consider it equally in their interest to have it neutral. At the other extreme, all the major powers would be there to counteract each other. LEE said, "it is very uncomfortable to have a heavy-weight lean against you, particularly if you're a light-weight such as myself".

In describing the United States' role in Southeast Asia now that the Vietnam War is essentially over, Prime Minister LEE KUAN-YEW stated that "a super power must answer for itself".
